

Poblenou, the catalan SOHO

Can Framis Museum:

acquired fad FAD First Prize 2010

Nominated for the Mies van der Rohe Award for Contemporary Architecture. Picture of the artist Anna Roig.

Join us and discover Poblenou, the most creative district in Barcelona where artists and designers have moved into disused factories and transformed them into art galleries, design studios, restaurants and lofts. We will be received privately by their owners to see first-hand these fabulous spaces and then visit the Can Framis Museum of Contemporary Catalan Art, housing the Vila Casas Foundation collection, in the company of an art historian. Poblenou is Barcelona's district of technology and sustainability, a place where we can find the most contemporary and ground-breaking architecture. What was once known as the Catalan Manchester is now the coolest and trendiest district in town.
