In this image we see the sculpture Innerspace by the artist STELLA RAHOLA.

The artist always uses very delicate and fragile materials, such as porcelain or glass, and experiments with them.

In this artwork she has experimented by joining together different sized and shaped bubbles of porcelain to create the sculpture. What does the shape remind you of?

Now we encourage you to create a sculpture like this one using popcorn! Yes, you read that right!

Materials:

A container with popcorn. To join the popcorn together you have two options: you could glue them together, but we also suggest an even sweeter idea – you could bind them together with melted white chocolate. And always on a stiff base.
